BOSTON COLLEGE
CHESTNUT HILL, MASSACHUSETTS 02167

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

My dear Graduates of the Class of 1979:

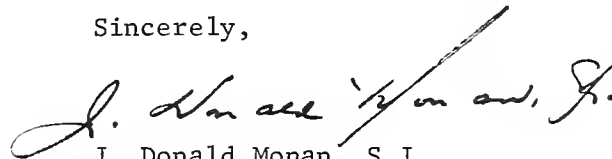

As I write, Commencement Day is too close upon us. As you re-read these lines in years to come, Commencement will be too far distant.

During your college years our nation closed out its second century. Under umbrellas of firelights over The Charles, and to the accompanying thunder Arthur Fiedler directed, we followed the stately pace of the Tall Ships out of the harbor into a third century. Your college years witnessed the reign of three Popes. Each of them in name or in desire aspired to make the face of the Church as benign and as compelling to our changed world as did their predecessor John. And while nations expanded and suffered and prospered, you formed new friends, new ideas, new perspectives, new tastes, new appreciations, new levels of understanding.

I trust that the ideas and understanding, the tastes and perspectives will continue to grow; that the strength of friendships made will transcend time and distance, and that the youth and idealism and Faith and generosity you breathed into the life of Boston College as students will continue to enliven the College's face as you look back to her as graduates.

May God bless you and all who are dear to you.

Sincerely,

J. Donald Monan, S.J.

College of Arts and Sciences

Boston College incorporated in 1863 a small parcel of land in Chestnut Hill, a five-member Board of Trustees, and a Jesuit faculty and philosophy. In 116 years of educating young men and women, great changes have occurred side by side with an unfailing commitment to the high standards and principles it began with.

The College of Arts and Sciences today confers the academic degree of either Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science, depending upon the candidate's major field which can range from English and Theology to Chemistry and Geophysics. All degree programs within the college are grounded in the liberal arts tradition.

School of Education

The School of Education was founded in September of 1952 as the first co-educational undergraduate college on the Chestnut Hill campus. The School of Education is one of five undergraduate schools at Boston College stressing the professional preparation of teachers. Students may choose to major in Elementary Education which offers career options in many areas of human services or in Secondary Education which offers a number of choices in the disciplines related to junior and senior high school teaching.

The greatest challenge which has continually faced the School of Education has been the need for effective response to a changing social environment. To meet the needs of recent changes in classroom settings and other related teaching areas, the School of Education has revised its curriculum and dramatic curriculum changes have been implemented in the elementary program. Beginning with the Class of 1980, students majoring in the elementary education program will gain the equivalent of ten semester hours of course work in special education. The content will be integrated into the elementary program and provide the necessary background needed by classroom teachers who will be teaching mildly and moderately handicapped children assigned to regular elementary classroom settings.

School of Management

In order to meet an ever increasing demand for undergraduate liberal and professional education for the modern world of business, the College of Business Administration was inaugurated as an integral part of Boston College in 1938. The first freshman class of the College met in downtown Boston, but a rapid expansion of the program caused the College to be moved out to the Chestnut Hill campus in 1940. Following World War II, the College of Business Administration moved to its own permanent building, Fulton Hall. The name School of Management is in itself a reflection of our goals and objectives — to educate the managers and leaders of organizations, whether business, government, hospital or education oriented.

School of Nursing

Boston College instituted the School of Nursing in 1947 with the cooperation of His Excellency, Most Reverend Richard J. Cushing, D.C., Archbishop of Boston. Begun in response to the need for a Catholic collegiate school of nursing in the Greater Boston area, the school now offers the degree of Bachelor of Science attainable in four academic years.

In March of 1960, the cornerstone was laid for Cushing Hall on the University campus. The new building was the gift of His Eminence Richard Cardinal Cushing to his Alma Mater, and replaced inadequate quarters at Newbury Street.

The School of Nursing functions within Boston College's Jesuit philosophy committed to the search for human values and to the endless process of understanding. The identification of values which comes through learning enhances the development of a person who is free to seek knowledge and truth and to manifest these in contribution to society.

FOOTBALL

A Learning Experience

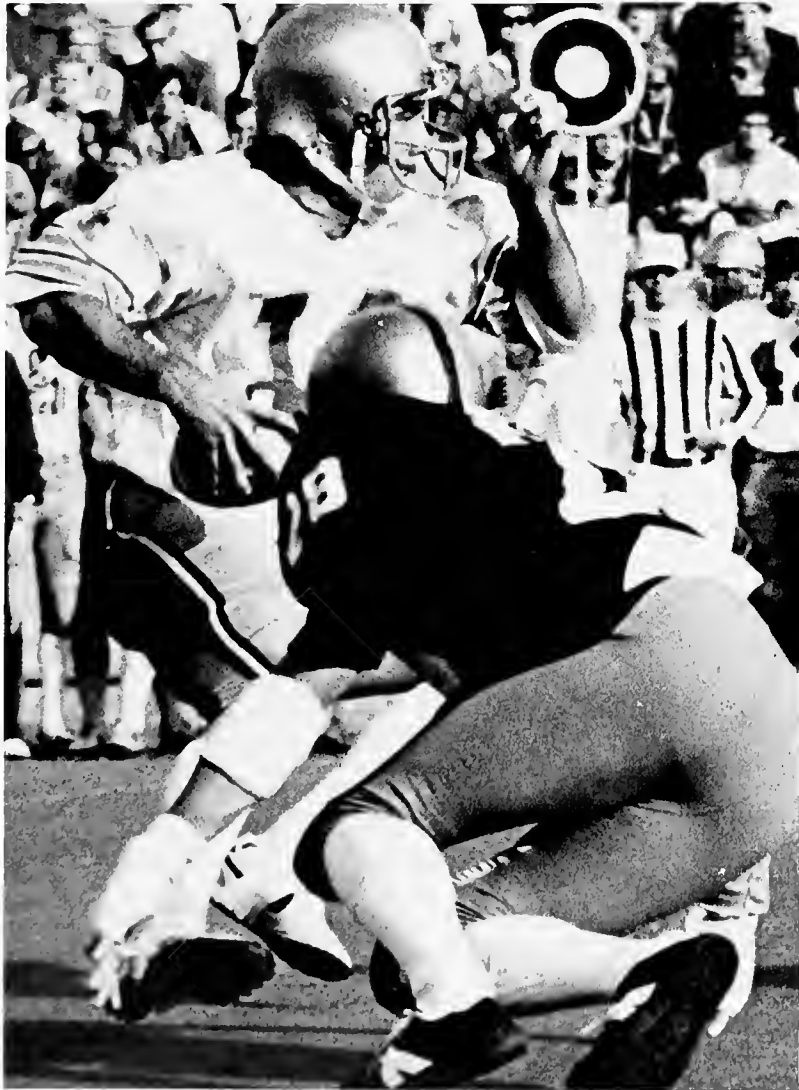

A new head coach, a new football program, and a new fall season rekindled hopes for a rejuvenated football team. In February of 1978 when Ed Chlebek assumed the challenging responsibility of rebuilding the Boston College football program, he stressed in his opening statements to the critics that they must be patient with his new system. But as fumbles, interceptions, and other miscues began to mount it seemed as though everyone was reserving a seat on the critics' bandwagon. But the 1978-79 season matured and the players began to adapt to Chlebek's new program. Weekly game statistics began to illuminate new chapters in what many had believed to be the same redundant story. By mid-season the Eagles' "Veer" offense hit full gear, consistently rolling up more running and passing yardage than any of their opponents.

But that ever elusive victory stubbornly eluded their grasp. With a discouraging 0-11-0 record to show for their efforts, their pride tarnished, the B.C. football team reviewed the harsh reality and began recruiting, recharging, rebuilding.

Coach Chlebek and his players have a rough road to traverse, but one that, with a little more time and a little more sweat, will bring them back to old heights.

HOCKEY

A Tough Act To Follow

Reigning as the defending ECAC champion is not easy.

This season the B.C. hockey team faced the cold fact that everyone was out to get them. UPI's and AP's refusal to rank, academic probations, the grueling schedule — B.C. seemed to be "numero uno" on everyone's hit list. The Eagles, skating without the services of their three highly touted tri-captains during the first part of their season, clawed their way through a tough schedule. The spark and enthusiasm that filled both the team's spirit and McHugh Forum last year was dampened by injuries and hard-fought losses. Coach Ceglarski's hockey wizardry was summoned often during the season to mix and match a talented crop of sophomores and freshmen and lift the Eagles out of their mid-season depression. It seemed, however, that Lady Luck had decided to take up residence a little further down Commonwealth Ave. and leave the Eagles to travel alone the road of hard knocks, struggling to regain the respectability they justly deserve.

SOCCER

Beginnings of a Dynasty?

In his second year as coach, Ben Brewster has helped establish B.C. as one of New England's soccer powers. At the season's end, the Soccer Eagles had built a 13-5 record and had set six University records including most wins and shutouts in a season.

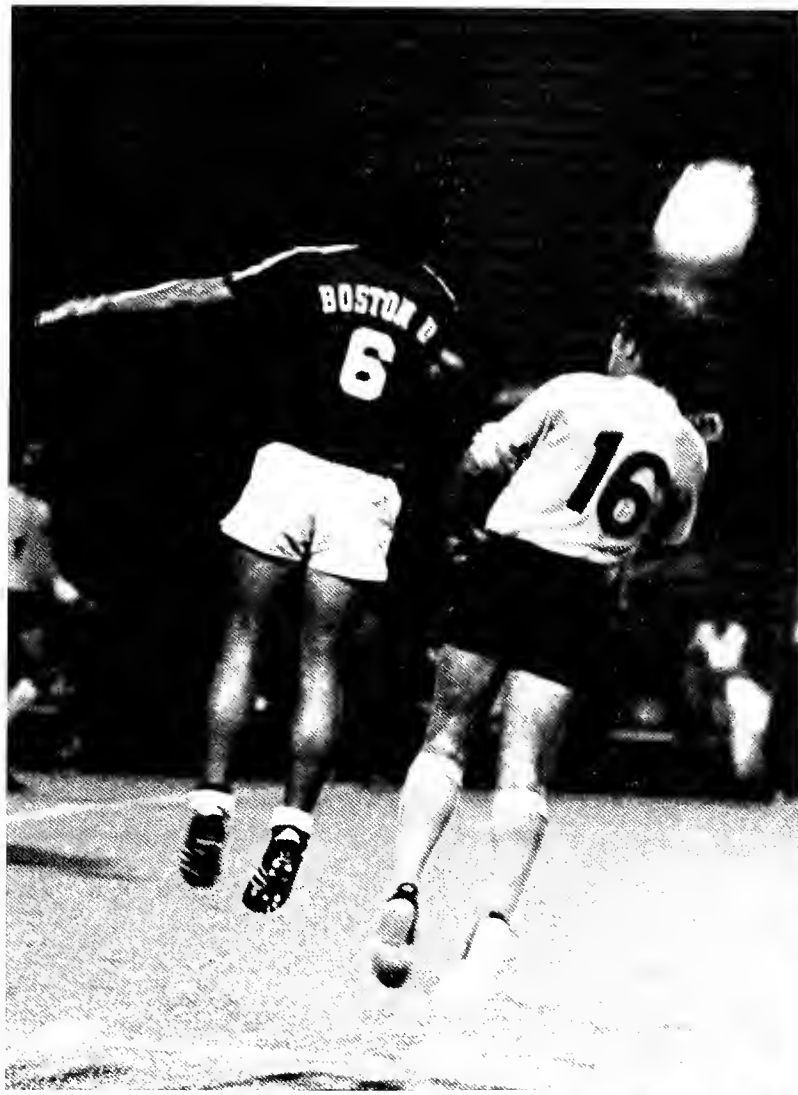

There were fewer injuries as Coach Brewster's rigorous training program payed off. Our '79 Soccer Eagles, a stronger team, drawing more popular support and national attention, are the beginnings of a winning tradition.

Fighting An Achilles' Heel

SKIING

Power Down The Slopes

The 1979 edition of the men's ski team had a rough ride early in the season. Paced by freshman Steve Plaustainer, who is rated 5th in New England slalom, the Eagles have been placing consistently in the middle of the seven-team New England Intercollegiate Ski Conference.

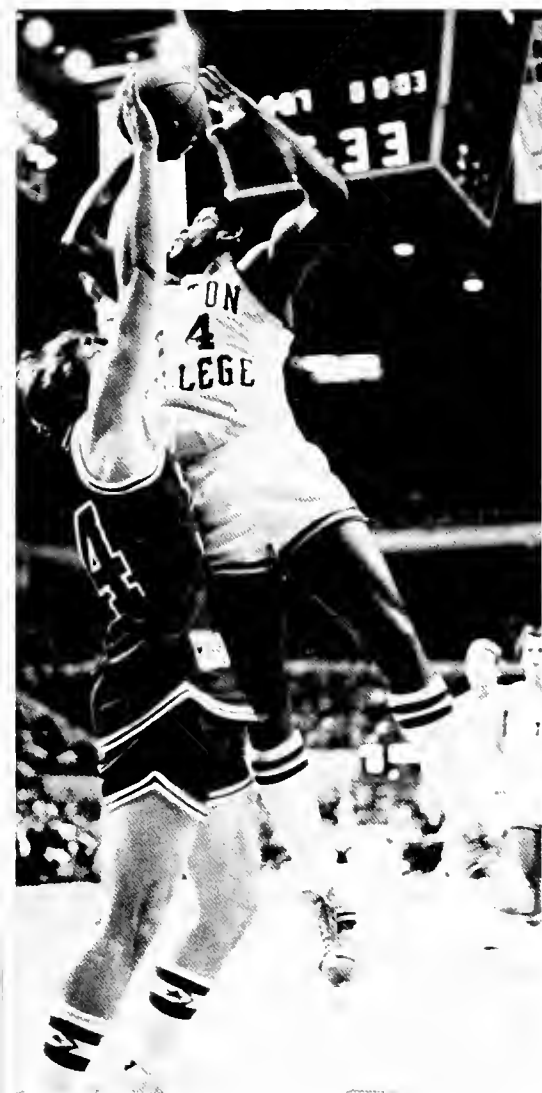

The women's team has fared better, placing second in the NEISC with an outstanding individual performance by Gretchen Dietzc.

BASKETBALL

Dr. Tom's Boys Have The Fever

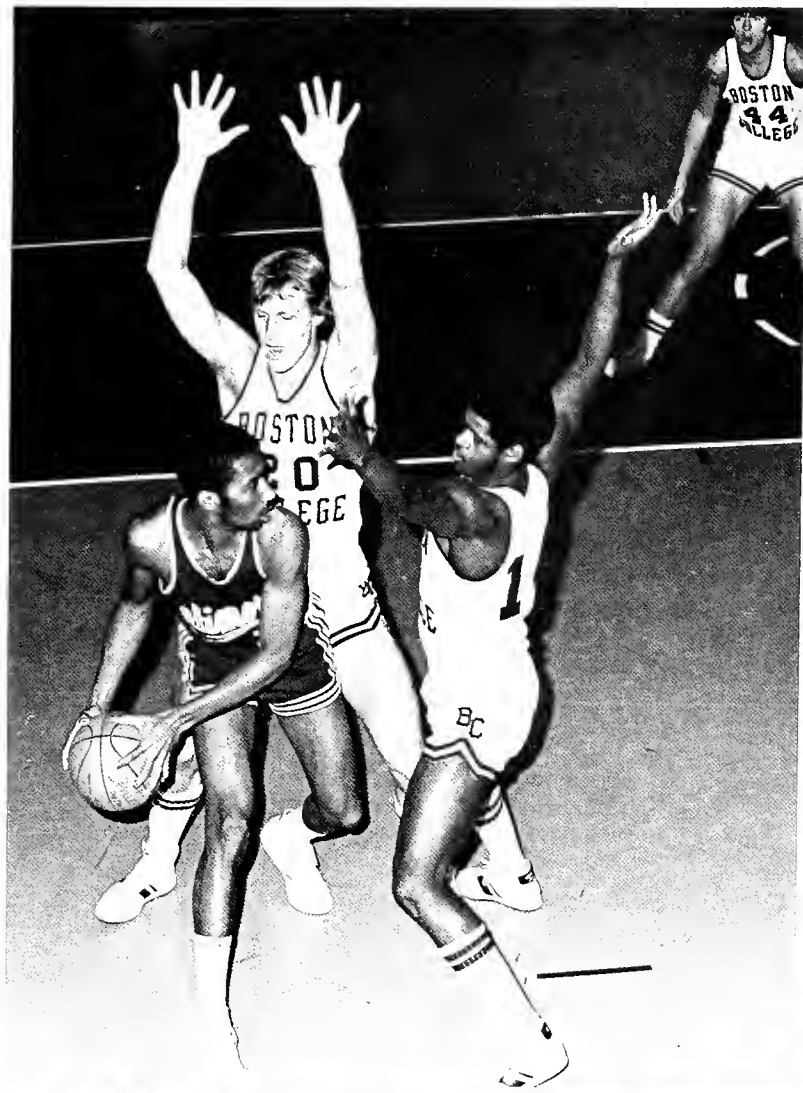

Dr. Tom Davis' medicine has worked wonders in the two years of his residence at B.C. — the Eagles are developing into a New England powerhouse.

The 1979 squad posted a 21-8 record, beating rivals UCONN, Providence, and Holy Cross, and established a perfect 15-0 record at Roberts Center. The team, too, moved into the national spotlight when they played Georgetown, Purdue, and UCLA, showing that they could in fact hold their own against traditional basketball "Monsters". The Eagles added more fire to their fever when they captured the Colonial Classic and were the first squad since 1975 to be invited to the E.C.A.C. playoffs.

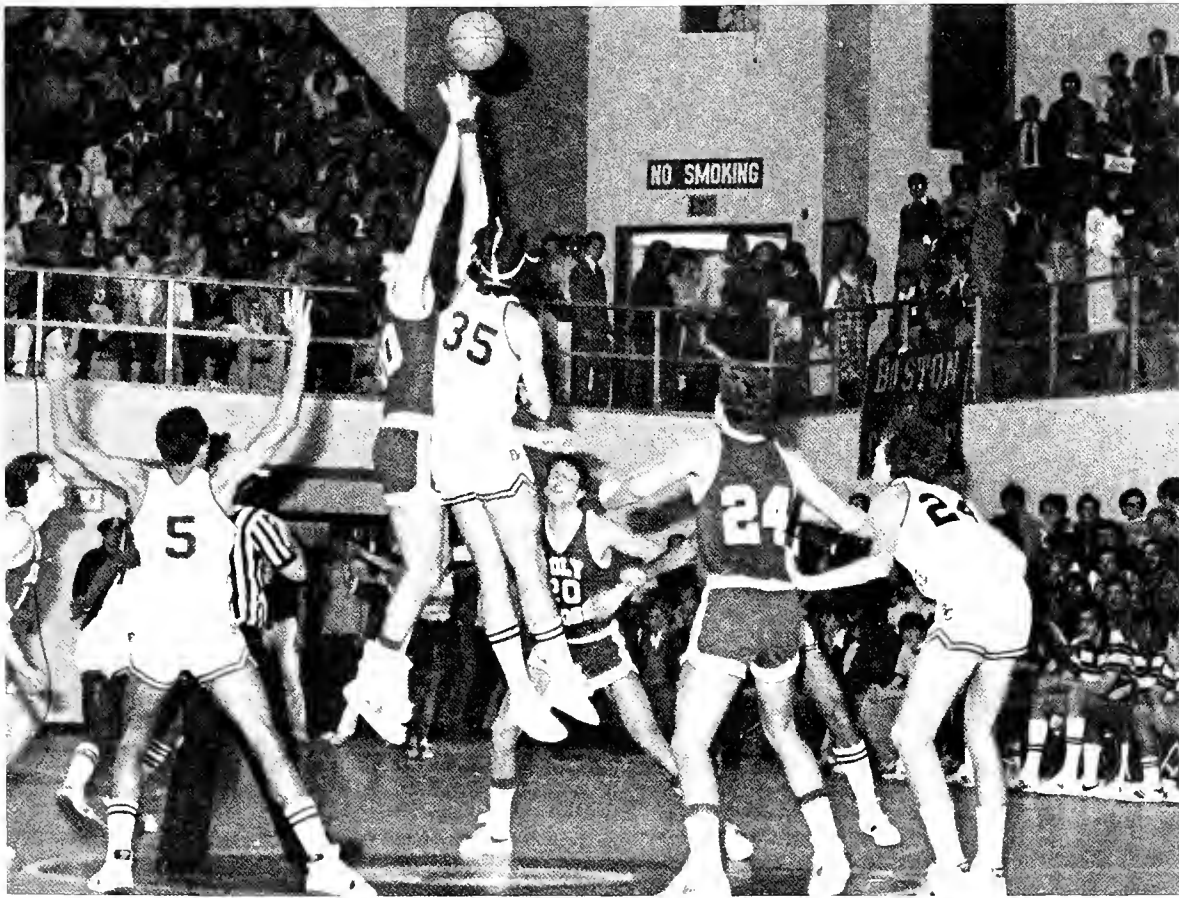

The team's plan of attack appeared simple — there would be no bench. Coach Davis rotated all his varsity players so that none were sidelined. Providing experience to the young team this year were seniors Michael Bowie, who could both rebound and score from outside, Rick Kuhn, a tough, all-around player, and the four-year-standout Ernie Cobb who charged the crowds with his own highly-charged ballplaying. And although only three men will graduate, the team will miss their seasoned talent.

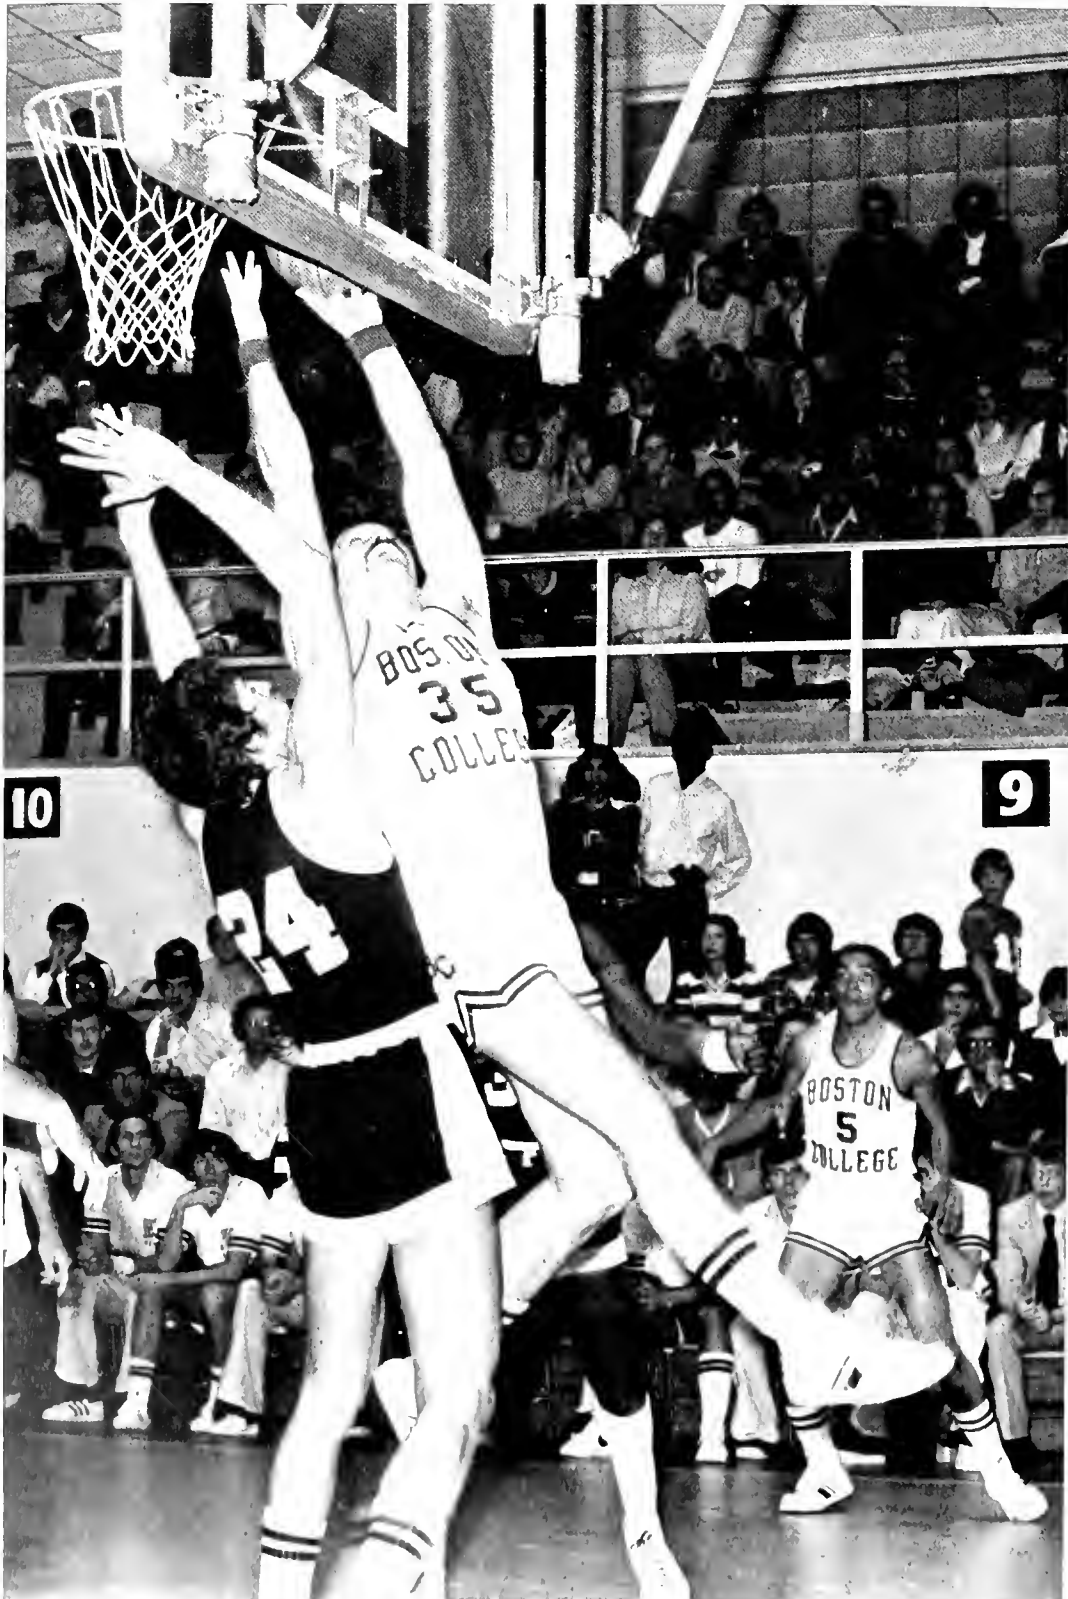

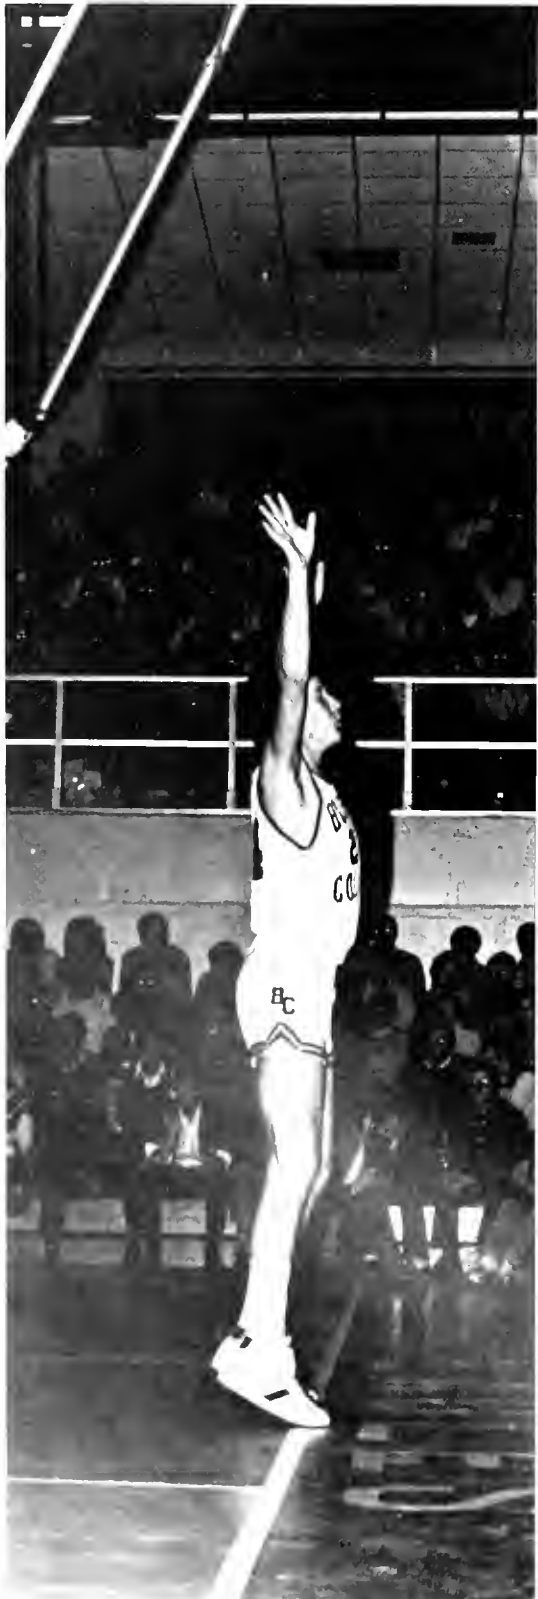

But Dr. Tom's black bag is full with the stuff of promising seasons-to-be. Next year's team aims to win a few more games, perhaps a game against a "Monster", perhaps this time the E.C.A.C.'s. One thing is certain — Dr. Tom's boys have the FEVER.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

One More Difficult Year

New head coach Carol Swindler took charge of a very young and enthusiastic women's basketball team. Senior co-captains Jody Regan and Carol Flaherty provided leadership for the squad which consisted largely of freshmen and sophomores. The team showed marked improvement through the season, nearly upsetting number one ranked Providence College, and promises to look even brighter next year.

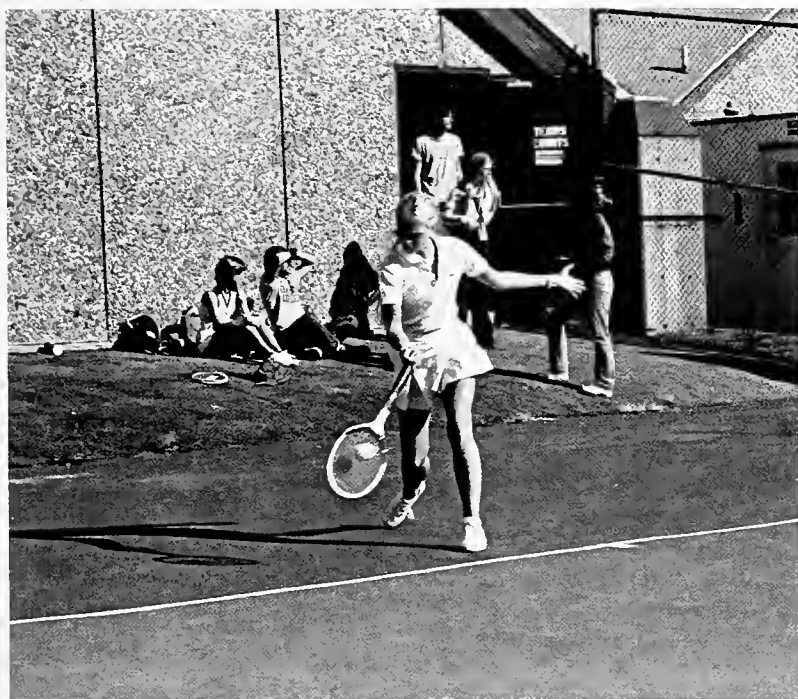

WOMEN'S TENNIS

A Time of Transition

The B.C. Women Netters suffered a slight letdown after several past successful seasons. In the face of stiff league opposition, the women are not yet settled into a new level of competition. The team has a solid core of sophomores and freshmen, and are losing to graduation only one senior, Mary Ann McCarthy. The potential is there, and with solid backing from the Athletic Department, the team's future looks good.

Hopefully the return of the warmer weather will carry with it better fortune for the Ruggers.

Republican Club

Slavic and Eastern Circle

The Republican Club of Boston College had a full and exciting election year. Every active candidate on the Massachusetts Republican Slate spoke to our membership, including gubernatorial candidate Frank Hatch.

Our members were involved in campaigns in this area, supporting the people and the causes we believed in. Despite some adverse results, the club's convictions have not wavered.

We wish to thank all who participated in the Republican Club's many activities, both this year and last.

Sub Turri

Sub Turri is Boston College's yearbook, sixty-six years old with this volume. Ours is a unique display of all that is B.C., dedicated and directed to the senior class who will hold these memories forever.

Sub Turri maintains the loose heirarchy it began with: the Editor-In-Chief is the main force behind selecting an editorial staff he feels will cooperate in the mammoth task ahead and in editing sections before they go to press. The sections editors, under the watchful eye of the "Boss", must get their own staffs rolling to transform the raw ideas of scratch pads into the yearbook.

To work for and belong to Sub Turri is especially satisfying when, at the end, we can finally say, "This is it, and it's been real!".

If you have less than five scratches, you are probably a cool guy. If you have eight or more, you are a flakey. Ten (10) or more? Check for a lip.

UGBC

The Undergraduate Government of Boston College under the leadership of Larry Byron experienced a year of increased participation, awareness, and expansion. Consisting of twelve Executive Cabinet members and 26 committee chairpersons, UGBC successfully recruited over 700 undergraduates in their efforts to persuade students to "Get Involved."

"Innovation" was the key characteristic of many of UGBC's activities and events. Beginning in the fall with an extended Orientation week, the various committees continued their work by establishing such traditions as Homecoming Weekend and International Day. Equally successful were the many new and exciting events and programs sponsored by UGBC — an "Animal House" Toga Party, Medieval Manor Night, and increased course variety and enrollment in the Free University.

Academically, UGBC was active by both refining current policies and procedures and by creating a new Internship Program on campus. In the area of student services, the government took the initiative again by organizing an expanded Book Co-op and a student run Food Co-op.

UGBC realized that both its success and survival depend on the support of the students. For these reasons the goals and philosophy of the government were aimed toward the betterment of student life and the fulfillment of student wants and needs. To this end, UGBC strived to serve the students and establish a trend of rising student involvement.

University Chorale

The University of Chorale of Boston College, under the direction of Dr. C. Alexander Peloquin, is composed of 150 undergraduates, graduates and faculty members. In the past, the Chorale has performed such works as Carmina Burana by Orff, Handel's Messiah and Porgy and Bess. In addition to the concerts done on the Boston College campus, the Chorale has performed in Rome, New York City, Washington D.C., and London. This year the Chorale travelled to the Church of Saint Paul, the Apostle in New York City, to perform pieces by Franz Liszt, Vaughan Williams and Gabriel Faure.

Dr. Peloquin has been the Composer-in-Residence at Boston College for the past twenty-four years. A renowned composer, pianist and conductor, Dr. Peloquin has become a foremost interpreter of liturgical music. The B.C. community is grateful to Dr. Peloquin for all his efforts.

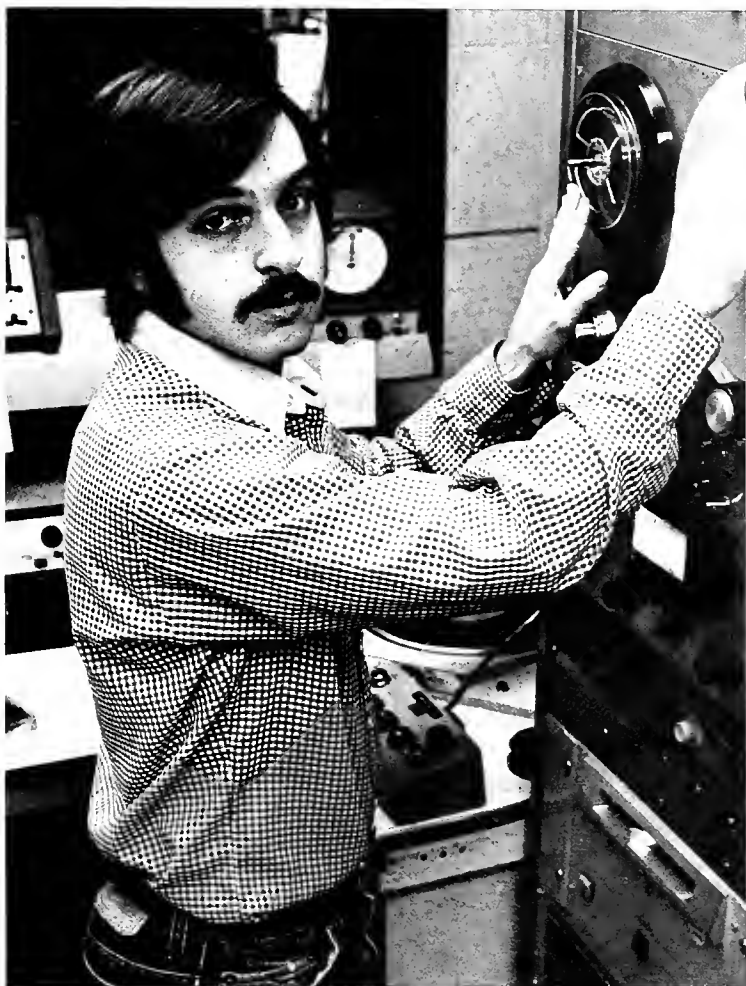

Women's Resource Center

The Women's Resource Center, established in the Spring of 1973, is many things to many people. A primary objective has been to provide the women of the community with an informational and supportive service. It functions as a place for women to find encouragement in their lives and work, to share their experiences with others or to be alone, "a room of one's own." One of our goals is to help women at realizing their full potential as human beings . . . " that choices should be provided according to their interests and talents and not solely according to their sex." The Center is an agent of change and fulfills its educational goal in a variety of ways in order to help women and men break out of traditional roles and achieve their full potentials.

SPORTS

CO-ED WRESTLING Coming to Grips

Late at night the Rec Center echoes with the sounds of flesh pounding mats and pained groaning — B.C.'s Varsity Co-ed Wrestlers are practicing again for another weekend match.

But their hard workouts payed off as the Matpersons flopped with no holds barred to an impressive 9-1 record. Their only defeat came at the hands of René Richard's College whose tricks, the team complained later, they couldn't adequately prepare for.

The team is spearheaded by senior co-captains Ben and Eileen Dover. Eileen's season was waylaid by a pulled gluteal muscle but with regular therapy from cooperative teammates, she hopes to rejoin her team for the summer Mudwrestling and Tag Team Tourneys at Chattanooga, Tennessee.

CAT JUGGLING

Meowing For More

Cat juggling at B.C., a sport who's day has come. With pride and feline grace B.C.'s Jugglers have stepped out of the litter box and into the limelight as theirs has become one of the University's premier sports.

By anyone's standards, the Kitty Eagles are a powerhouse team, boasting a 10-0 record this year. Captain Bootsy MacDonald attributed her crew's success to intensive training and perfection of new kick flips and tooth grips as well as to younger, firmer practice cats gleaned from affluent Chestnut Hill backyards.

The squad, built around returning sophomores Sylvester "Puss" Fellini and Morris Katz, has an aggressive tail-grabbing style that keeps frontrunners Southern Angora Tech and the University of Catalonna a toss, flip, and kick behind.

The Pseudoprofessional Nerd Group's watchword is "values". In the midst of crazed sex and drugs and rock 'n roll, the "guys" are an oasis of wholesome values and sound minds to which fellow undergrads can withdraw and be consoled, find sound peer guidance in career choices, or just rap.

Membership in P.N.G. is strictly regulated and based on attitudes toward God, Country, and Elvis, figures of speech, and attire.

"High at 108.9", WBUZ sees itself as an under-the-counter culture splinter group of another (nameless) non-progressive college station. Broadcasting from the smokey bowels of McElroy Commons, the strains of Devo and The Clash permeate airwaves throughout campus, creating an intensely devotional band of plaster-patting groupies who clamor for the slightest attentions of head Sam (the Bam) and ace jocks Pistol Ted, Z. "Tabaltom" Cat, and Sweet Mary.

Membership is open to hardly anyone, so don't ask. Snapped: Bubble, Sam, Bruce, Car, Dog, Mary, Otis, Pistol, Cat.

A B.C. BODY? WHY, IN 4 YEARS

I can teach you how to handle any crisis, minor or major, that could possibly occur on campus through my method of Dynamite — Tension.

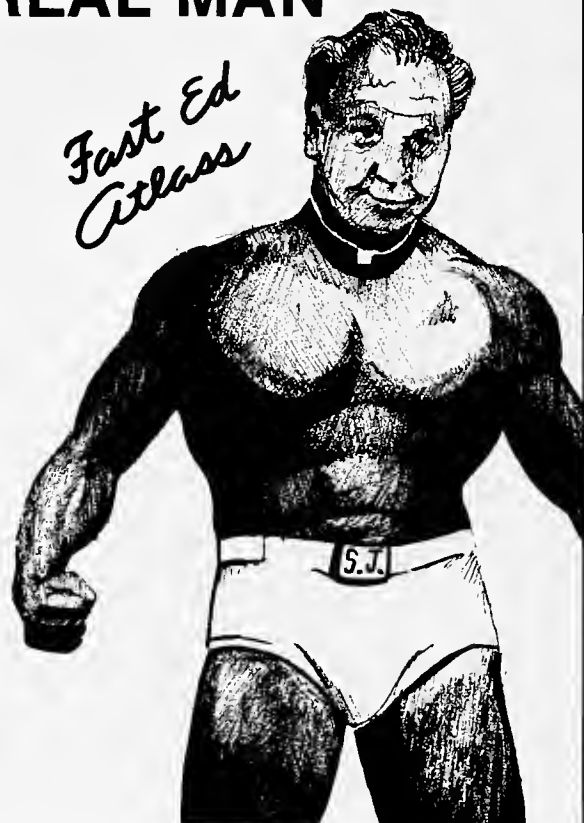

Take a good honest look at yourself. Are you proud of your body, or do you want a B.C. body with big, useful muscles? No need to spend hours at the Nautilus — my DYNAMITE-TENSION method will wake up dormant muscles everywhere in your body even as you sleep. My patented Jesuit dynamism will turn you from a 97-pound half-alive weakling into a fulfilled revitalized piece of meat.

How I changed from a 97 Lb. weakling to a real GUY.

I didn't. I never was one either.

So send your tuition now. Try it for four years and in even that short period of time you will have results that not only you can feel, but your friends will notice.

THE BOSTON COLLEGE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION WELCOMES THE CLASS OF 1979

The future of the University is in the hands of you and all of our Alumni.

Per Te Vincemus

We can't turn back the ocean's tide,
As it breaks upon the shore,
We can't return and live again
The days and scenes of yore.

For progress, ever progress
Is the world's most earnest cry,
And we must go with the hurrying stream
Or the stream shall pass us by.

So it's not from choice or pleasure
That we take our leave to-day,
But it is just, because we must
That we hasten on our way.

Now we pause ere the final leave-taking,
While we think of the years that have flown,
Yet the time we have spent, we shall never repent
When older and wiser we've grown.

As the waves roll away from the sea-shore
We're leaving for places unknown;
But our hope is that we, always shall be,
Forever and ever Thine own.

— Thomas L. Quilty

EPILOGUE

Finally the 1979 Edition of the SUBTURRI is complete. Despite the long hours and the sleepless nights, I can definitely say, "I've enjoyed every last minute of it." My closest friends and made friends putting this memory together, and I'm pleased with the overall quality of the book you now hold in your hands. As a true reminder of B.C. in the years to come, this SUBTURRI will remain a cherished possession which we'll be able to pull from the shelf, travel through and ponder — wasn't Boston College the greatest!

On behalf of the 29 SUBTURRI Staff I would like to thank our Faculty moderator, Fr. John Trzaska, S.J., for his unflinching advice, patience, and cooperation throughout the year. A further "thank" goes to Dick Lowe of Hunter Publishing Company and his District Assistant Linda Miller for their combined efforts in this production. I would also like to thank the photographer from Stevens Studios, Harold Dodge, and the seniors who had their pictures taken; the parents as patrons, and the businessmen in the area for their endorsements.

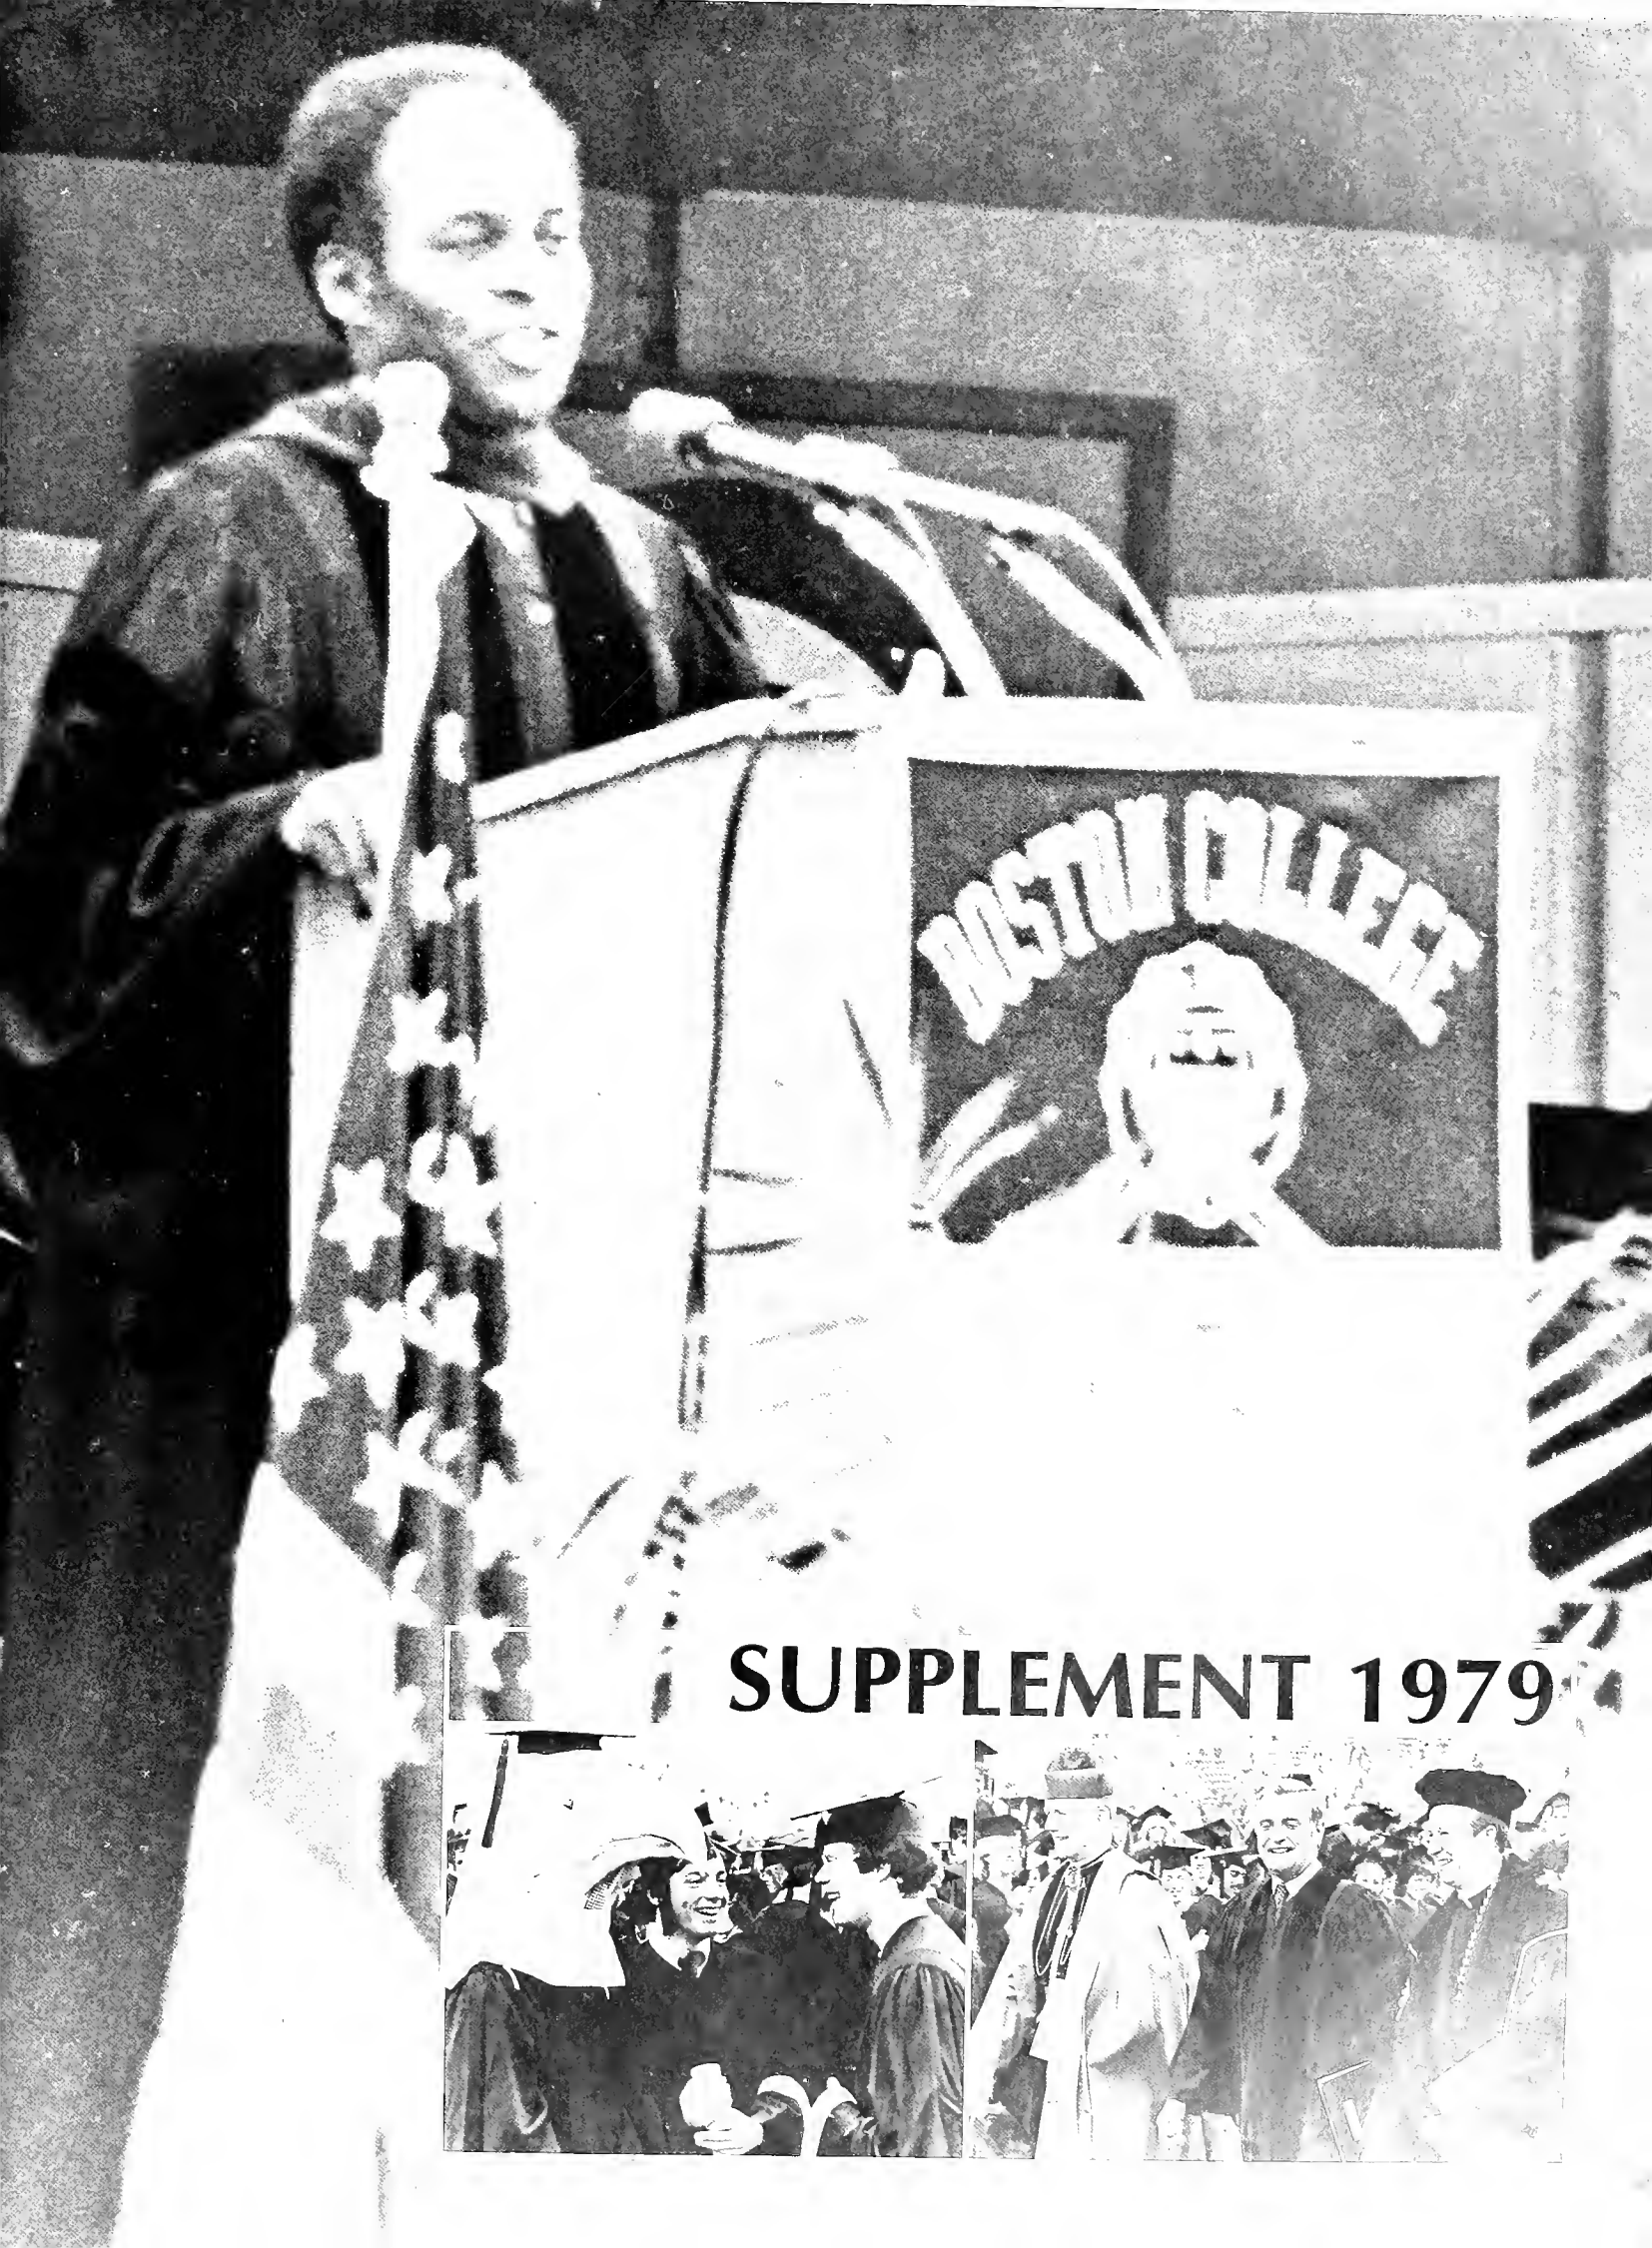

And on the bottom line, I would like to give my dearest thanks to the SUBTURRI Staff who stuck by me as we forged this book. And especially Mary Jane and Bob — your efforts are surely deserving of more than just this simple note, but THANK YOU!

Mark Mann
Editor-in-Chief
